  - b. Which, subsequent to RLH’s or Client’s disclosure to Recipient, through no act, negligence or fault of Recipient or any of its officers, employees, agents, directors, partners, members, insurers, financing sources, representatives or advisers (“Representatives”), becomes information generally available to the public; or
  - c. Is legally furnished to Recipient on a nonqualified basis by a third party who has not received such information from RLH or Client, directly or indirectly, under an obligation of confidentiality.
  - d. Is independently developed by Recipient, provided Recipient can show that such development was accomplished by or on behalf of Recipient without any wrongful act or use of or any reference to any Information.
2. Non-Disclosure. Recipient shall (a) receive and hold all Information in confidence, (b) use the Information only for the purpose of evaluating the proposed transaction between Client and Recipient, (c) handle the Information with care so as to avoid the accidental disclosure to or appropriation by parties or persons not having an interest in the mutual objectives of Recipient and Client, (d) not reproduce, disclose, or make the Information available to others (other than Representatives who have a need to know such Information) without the prior written consent of RLH and (e) not disclose the Information to any third party except:

  - b. To the extent such information is required to be disclosed under applicable law, securities laws, securities exchange regulations, subpoena, or by a governmental order, decree, regulation or rule; provided that the Receiving Party gives prompt written notice to the Disclosing Party prior to such disclosure; and provided further that, in any case, the Receiving Party shall only disclose that portion of the Confidential Information that, in the opinion of the Receiving Party’s legal counsel, is required to be disclosed and shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to ensure further confidential treatment of the Information so disclosed.

3. Non-Solicitation. Recipient will not, directly or indirectly through another person, firm, association, corporation or other entity with which it is now or may hereafter become associated, (i) request, advise, induce or attempt to induce any customer, supplier, licensee or other business relation of Client to withdraw, curtail, cancel or otherwise cease or reduce such Customer's business with Client or in any way interfere with the relationship between any such Customer and Client, (ii) disclose to any other person, firm, corporation or other entity, the name or address of any Customer for the purpose of competing with Client, or (iii) solicit for employment or similar services any person who is or was employed, or retained to provide services, by Client at any time within a one (1) year period immediately preceding such contemplated employment or services. The foregoing shall not prohibit Recipient from soliciting any person by means of general advertising or through the use of employment agencies or search firms, provided that such firms are not given specific instructions directed at any particular person employed by the Client. Nothing contained herein shall preclude Recipient from pursuing new customers, pursuing new business with its existing customers or soliciting or employing any person in the normal course of business, so long as the Information is not improperly used or disclosed in furtherance thereof.
4. Officers, Employees, Etc. Recipient shall cause its Representatives to treat Information as confidential and covenants and warrants that such Representatives will be subject to, and comply with, this Agreement. Recipient shall be liable to RLH and Client for any unauthorized disclosure or use of the Information by Recipient's Representatives.
5. Ownership and Return of Information. Recipient hereby acknowledges and agrees that the Information shall remain the property of Client. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Recipient shall be permitted to retain an electronic copy of the Information for legal compliance and archiving purposes provided the Confidentiality obligations herein remain for as long as the Information is retained.
6. Injunctive Relief. Recipient acknowledges that the disclosure of Information could cause Client and/or RLH irreparable injury that may not be adequately compensated for by the payment of damages and consents to the issuance of injunctive relief or other equitable relief, without Client and/or RLH being required to post a bond or other security in connection therewith, as well as an action of law for damages and other available remedies. Any such relief will be in addition to and not in lieu of any appropriate relief in the way of monetary damages.
7. Prevailing Party. In the event of litigation relating to this Agreement, if a court of competent jurisdiction determines in a final, non-appealable order in favor of a party to such litigation, then the non-prevailing party shall be liable and pay to the prevailing party the commercially reasonable legal fees such prevailing party has incurred in connection with such litigation.
